

Websites for Job Search and Career Management Issues – Military and General

Job seekers should use these two websites before participating in any of the job fairs listed above, or others. This also included the seldom offered Open House. Both offer excellent counsel on the Career Fair and what one should be prepared for prior to attending job fairs. Saves a lot of time and makes the attendance at a Career Fair worthwhile

Job-Hunting.org www.job-Hunt.org is Susan Joyce's excellent contribution to those in the search mode. She offers the reader a tutorial, beginning with knowing the position you truly want to go after and the steps to take, in sequence. Moving the reader through the steps, she offers specific websites to review. She also offers timely and current articles, as they are written, on the various aspects of job search, considering the entrepreneurial world, and the use of Facebook. An excellent resource here.

Patra Frame www.patraframe.com is a relatively new site focused to the transitioning military and military family. A former U.S. Air Force Officer, Ms. Frame, has been a strong resource for transitioning military and their families. PatraFrame is the most recent of her websites, earlier ones were focused on women in IT and then broaden to all who chose the IT career. PatraFrame takes the visitor to Tomorrow Comes. This site offers a complete tour, with instructions and examples for all of the elements in transitioning from the military to the private sector. A gifted speaker, author, and coach and counselor, she offers always current and relevant information for those transitioning and transitioned military. Her YouTube video, part of ClearedJobs.net career fairs and web presence, are considered the most helpful. A military family, Ms. Frame has also strong experience in the private sector with General Electric, before becoming an independent consultant. Her work with small and medium sized companies in the metropolitan Washington, DC area is well known. While Patra's focus is the transitioning military and veteran, her work is totally relevant to all job seekers.

They have set the standard with regard to hosting quality job fairs, publishing a first rate career transition book, and running a state-of-the-art military-to-civilian career transition website. To date, they've given over 4 million copies of their book to transitioning service members, held over 150 military-focused job fairs across the country, and connected thousands of veterans with employers through their website. Job seekers benefit from attending their military-focused job fairs (both in-person and virtual) reading The Military-to-Civilian Transition Guide, and using Corporate Gray Online to search and apply for jobs of interest. Companies benefit from using their range of recruiting services to connect with military veterans – in print, in person, and online. Check out the latest job search and transition advice articles on the Corporate Gray Blog (<http://blog.corporategray.com>).

Defense Talent Network www.defensetalent.org. An organization seeking both the cleared professional and the employers seeking cleared professionals for their contracts. This includes companies in defense, aerospace, RF/Microwave and related industries. There is no fee for the cleared professional seeking employment with any of the identified industries above.

IntelligenceCareers.com. www.IntelligenceCareers.com, aka ICDefense Jobs, www.ICDefenseJobs.com, offers resources and programs for those with clearances and who are interested in either connecting with the federal sector or with a contractor to the federal sector. This group periodically offers a one-day seminar on securing opportunities with DoD contractors and other organizations holding security clearance required positions. It also provides a guide to the value of the resume (of individuals holding a clearance) in the Intelligence Community upon request.

Transition Assistance Online www.taonline.com is a long standing web site listing transition information and career fairs and hiring conferences scheduled across the country. It is always wise, however, to check the specific site after checking the taonline site as schedules sometimes change and do not get forwarded to other sites that collect and post the information.

Transition Careers com www.transitioncareers.com. An independent facilitator of technical and security clearance career fairs on-site military installations nationwide. Provides a job board that is networked with 1000+ other job boards. Fairs are open to Military, Government Civilians, Contractors and Family Members that have access to the military installation where the event is taking place.

Web Sites Supporting the Military in Transition, Spouses and Veterans:

*Chamber of Commerce, US www.uschamberfoundation.org, is the US Chamber's support of service members returning to the workplace. Key to this site is the ongoing listing of sponsored and co-sponsored career fairs focused to the returning service member, veterans, Reserve and Guard components and their spouses. Upon entering the web page cited above, the reader is offered a number of options while the listing of cities sponsoring career fairs is centered and offered by date of the career fair. Options include a Veteran's Advisory Board, Military Spouse Business Alliance connection, a newsletter, a useful conversion of military job titles to private sector titles – more effective than most; and resources on resume preparation.

ClearedJobs.net www.clearedjobs.net a Veteran-owned ClearedJobs.Net offers thousands of online security-cleared CONUS/OCONUS positions with leading defense and intel contractors, as well as Cleared Job Fairs and Cyber Job Fairs for transitioning military to meet face-to-face with premier employers. ClearedJobs.Net is committed to helping transitioning military succeed in the cleared and cyber communities. Follow cleared job search news and advice via clearedjobs.net/blog, or visit their YouTube channel: youtube.com/clearedjobsdotnet. Their career fairs also offer excellent resume reviews and counseling.

Corporate Gray.com www.corporategray.com - Corporate Gray was established in 1994 to help transitioning and former military personnel connect with employers in print through their publication (The Military-to-Civilian Transition Guide), in person at their Corporate Gray "Military Friendly" Job Fairs, and online through Corporate Gray Online. They have set the standard with regard to hosting quality job fairs, publishing a first-rate career transition book, and running a state-of-the-art military-to-civilian career transition website. To date, they've given over 4 million copies of their book to transitioning service members, held over 150 military-focused job fairs across the country, and connected thousands of veterans with employers through their website. Job seekers benefit from attending their military-focused job fairs (both in-person and virtual), reading The Military-to-Civilian Transition Guide, and using Corporate Gray Online to search and apply for jobs of interest. Companies benefit from using their range of recruiting services to connect with military veterans – in print, in person, and online. Check out the latest job search and transition advice articles on the Corporate Gray Blog (<http://blog.corporategray.com>).

Easter Seals Greater Washington-Baltimore Region, Inc www.gwbr.easterseals.com has a program Veterans Employment Program, focused specifically to veterans who meet one of the following criteria: have separated within the past 48 months, or have a service-connected disability, or have a significant barrier to employment, or are a veteran who served on active duty in the Armed Forces during a war or in a campaign or expedition for which a Campaign Badge has been authorized. This organization does have geographic boundaries for its services. The organization also provides monthly “Job Prep Workshops.” Easter Seals of Greater Washington-Baltimore now has a new entity. Veterans Staffing Network (VSN) is a fee based placement firm (charging the employer only) that works to provide opportunities for veterans. It does not work with individuals who did not service in any one of the seven uniform services. Currently, they have postings primarily on the east coast. See below under Veteran Staffing Network for more information and URL.

eMilitary.org www.eMilitary.org. A non-profit organization focused to the military and military family offering validated information for the military family covering most areas of assistance and information for those stepping away from the military and for PCS situations. Web site is www.eMILITARY.org. Identifies itself as the Military Family Network.

*FedsHireVets www.fedshirevets.gov/job-seekers/ is a web site for veterans interested in considering and finding federal positions.

*GIJoeJobs.com www.GIJoeJobs.com Offers the information on the Government Hiring Process, Veterans Preference, Special Hiring Authorities, Featured Jobs and Reference Materials. It offers a free job board for employers, free resume posting for transitioning service members, veterans and spouses. The third piece of the job board offers a “full service” and counsel on “every aspect of career management.” The job search offered by GIJoeJobs is serviced by Beyond.com network, and offers the standard approach to searching by job title and/or location.

IntelligenceCareers.com. www.IntelligenceCareers.com, aka ICDefense.com, offers resources and programs for those with clearances and who are interested in either connecting with the federal sector or with a contractor to the federal sector. This group periodically offers a one-day seminar on securing opportunities with DoD contractors and other organizations holding security clearance required positions. It also provides a guide to the value of the resume (of individuals holding a clearance) in the Intelligence Community upon request. The requestor must hold a currently valid clearance, Secret or higher or ask for the free service.

Military.com www.military.com is a helpful and useful resource for military, transitioning military and veterans. The site offers an extremely wide and useful number of resources from the military pay grade, MOS translation – considered the finest with greater detail, military organizations, military associations, links for military uniform insignia, and more. See also the Military.com/Spouse link below.

Military-Civilian www.military-civilian.com is a relatively new site offering job and resume postings, notices of job offerings and a LinkedIn Hot Jobs for Veterans and Families Group, <http://bit.ly/military-civilian>. These free services can be downloaded to much of your social media units.

MilitaryHire.com www.MilitaryHire.com. A web site for transitioning and former military. Offers a free job board for veterans.

MilitaryLeaders.com www.militaryleader.com specializes in recruitment and placement of Military personnel – officer, enlisted, veteran and retiree -- into civilian positions. Offers registration in career fairs selected by transitioning service members. Offers a Quarterly Hiring Conference that is held in Philadelphia, PA. This organization offers 5 hour consulting to HR and Recruiters, or large group on how and where to recruit military candidates. The organization also offers to identify the military profiles that align with the employer’s positions. They also provide direct referrals, pre-screen and pre-qualify candidates to the employers who sign up and then are unable to participate in the program. The employer who signs up pays for this service. The veteran candidate does not pay for anything.

*MilitaryMOJO www.militarymojo.org is a web site specifically focused to the transitioning officer and senior Non-Commissioned Officer. The group has scheduled career fairs in Washington, DC, Philadelphia, and Seattle currently. The site also supports this same category of service member at their LinkedIn site where resume and career tips are offered. The LinkedIn address is: www.Linkedin.com/groups/MILITARY-MOJO-5063691. The group is also on Facebook, Google+ and Twitter. Both job seekers and employers can register for upcoming career fairs 24/7 throughout the year.

*Military Officers Association of America (MOAA) www.moaa.org is the nation’s largest and most influential association of military officers. MOAA hosts the largest military-friendly career fairs in the Washington, D.C area annually. Employers like Amazon, Chick-fil-A, L-3, Lockheed Martin, Target, and more consistently attend to find high quality candidates. MOAA has teamed up with Milicruit to offer virtual career fairs – bringing employers and job seekers together from the comfort and convenience of their home or office – from anywhere with internet access! MOAA now offers monthly Virtual programs alternating between Transition and Financial counseling. Other MOAA transition services include: resume critiques, career counseling sessions, transition lectures, a secure job board, a member-to-member state wide networking program, and a variety of helpful videos and publications. In addition to transition services, MOAA members have access to services specifically designed for them. MOAA's Legislative Update brings issues on Capitol Hill to you. Its financial tools can help you navigate the complex maze of military benefits. The educational assistance program can help you put your children through college. The Spouse and Families program helps your loved ones stay informed. If you are or were an officer in any of the seven services why not join MOAA.

Military Spouses www.milspouse.com is a relatively new site established for the spouses of those serving in the military on active duty. The site offers information and counsel on the various aspects of military and military spouse life with resources covering deployment, family, careers and education, relationships, a magazine, blogs and more. Offers a free Military Community e-Newsletter.

Military Spouse Employment Partnership <https://msepjobs.militaryonesource.mil> is a relatively new web site specifically for military spouses. DoD has set up a military spouse partnership with employers, currently 360+ and growing. This partnership is to ensure quality and professional opportunities equal to skill sets held by spouses, in and around military installations. Supporting links include: military Spouse Network; Military Spouse Career Center; Military Spouse Blog; SpouseBUZZ; and Latest Military Spouse and Family News.

*ServingTalent (www.servingtalent.com) - ServingTalent is a boutique full-service recruiting agency that places highly skilled, diverse U.S. military and foreign service spouses and veterans with employers in various industries. They work primarily with small- to mid-sized U.S. companies seeking office-based and remote employees in the U.S. and around the world, and have placed engineers, CPAs, HR professionals, defense experts, and graphic designers, among others. Their service is free for all candidates and they conduct an initial phone screen of every candidate. Candidates receive an email newsletter once every two months and can stay informed with job search advice and the latest employment news on ServingTalent's social media channels. Current opportunities are featured on their site under the Candidates tab.

Troops to Teachers www.proudtoserveagain.com the web site for transitioning military interested in pursuing teaching positions within the fifty states. Each state has its own representative who explains the requirements including certifications required and timing requirements.

*USTechVets www.USTechVets.org, was established in 2013, as a career and resource site for the non-profit Veteran Employment Initiative (VEI) – www.NVTCVeterans.org – which connects job seeking transitioning military members, Veterans and military spouses to over 3200 companies in the Northern Virginia Technology Council and Consumer Technology Association. USTechVets is a marketplace for Veteran seeking recruiters to post jobs and internship positions. The VEI sponsors free hiring events on military bases in the Washington, DC region and provides professional education and best practices in how Veterans and military spouses can best present themselves to companies looking for talent.

VetJobs.com www.vetjobs.com, is the largest military related job board on the Internet. VetJobs is ranked as one of the very top job boards while at the same time being a niche job board. It is supported by and partially owned by the VFW, and endorsed by VVA, Naval Reserve Association, Veterans of Modern Warfare, and others. Workforce Magazine ranks it among its leading job boards, as does AIRS. Over 3,000 employers use VetJobs, and candidates do not have to register to view jobs or apply, they can apply directly. Lists of upcoming Job/Career Fairs are found in VetJobs monthly newsletter. This site is free to veterans, transitioning military and their family members. With its latest version of its web site has 200,000+ visitors each month. This is a strong positive for military and former military as the market tightens considerably and the media is beginning to give greater recognition of the values to employers in hiring former military. Look for an excellent listing of military focused career fairs that are included as only one of the options of assistance to the transitioning service member and veterans interested in securing and/or changing positions.

Websites Offering Translation of Military MOS/MOSC/MOC Ratings

A strong caution here: Never, never just use the translation but start with that information, then research the company and see how what you actually have done and/or been doing fits in with what the company is doing, particularly where they have job posting along the line of what you actually do. Also, ask former members of your unit or larger grouping what they are doing with what they did.

CareerOne Stop www.careeronestop.org, Brings up careeronestop. Center of the page asks the transitioning service member to enter the MOC (Military Occupational Classification/code). Options or supplements to the MOC are Keyword Search and/or Menu Search by using service member's military title, or branch of service. CareerOneStop services the five DoD Services but does not cover the NOAA or USPHS.

DoL Military to Civilian Occupation Translator www.acinet.org/acinet/moc/default.aspx?nodeid=213 is the U.S. Department of Labor's translator of Military to Civilian information. This site is also the sponsor of the O*Net Military Skills Translator, <http://online.onetcenter.org/crosswalklisted> below.

Military.com www.military.com/veteran-jobs/skills-translator is a user friendly site. On accessing the site viewer is asked for branch of service, pay grade and military job title (MOS/MOSC/MOC) MOC Rating Designator. Sub specialties and training are then asked for to allow for more customized search for potential matches.

Military2FedJobs www.Mil2FedJobs.com is similar to the other links in this section in that it offers assistance in identifying federal job characteristics such as pay, grade, and duties.

Onetonline.org www.onetonline.org, offers options for search words or identifiers. Gives an example for each option. Some onsite commentators have offered that for those holding combat arms MOCs the search is less helpful, even with the use of sub specialties. Unable to confirm commentary.

Websites of Government Agencies Offering Specific Resources and Job Application Information:

National Resource Directory www.ebenefits.va.gov is an inter-agency web portal. It is considered the most helpful single government site for Wounded Warriors, Service members, Veterans, their families and for caregivers. It is a federal Government site that provides information and links to probably the largest number of federal, state and local resources. This includes Federal, State and local government agencies and veteran service organizations. Additionally, non-profit and community-based organizations, academic institutions and professional associations are also linked the site. The visitor can best use the site by identifying what is being looked for or sought, then using the options focused to that need. This site is a collaborative effort of the U.S. Defense Department, the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Department of Labor.

Feds Hire Vets www.FedsHireVets.gov is a One-Stop Resource for federal employment information. It offers a list of Veteran Employment Program Offices who promote Veteran recruitment, employment, training and development (as well as retention) within their particular agency. Use these contacts to gather specific information on employment in those agencies. Also has a link to USAJobs to begin your search. However, would encourage using the link above initially in your search for opportunities with the federal sector. This site also has link to Education and Training opportunities.

Useful Links for Veterans Seeking Federal Employment

Determining Veteran Preference www.dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/msservice.htm should be used to assist in determining your Veterans Preference.

Federal Jobs By College Major www.usajobs.gov/ResourceCenter/Index/Interactive/JobsByCollegeMajor#icc. Use this site to help you determine which Federal Positions you most likely qualify for based on your education.

Federal Qualification Standards, by Series & Grade After you have identified the federal positions you believe you qualify for based either on your military experience or your education, use the following link to help in determining the qualifying standards by both series and grade:
www.opm.gov/qualifications/standards/indexes/num-ndx.asp.

Job/Skills Translator for Military Personnel See www.military.com/veteran-jobs/skills-translator for assistance in translating your military experiences to civilian skills. Note that this site also is referenced above. It also has the ability to add military training and schools attended. This last is definitely helpful in applying for federal positions.

A caution: All Government advisors and quality coaches counsel to never use the same resume in applying for multiple positions in the federal government. It is viewed as a most likely disqualifier. Every Government resume should be focused to the specific position being sought. Be aware of, and use where appropriate, the qualifications noted in the Federal Qualification Standards, guided by the Series and Grade being applied to.

Websites of Career Fair Providers for individuals holding or eligible for a US Security Clearance:

Career Rookie [www.career rookie.com](http://www.career rookie.com), a site for college graduates looking for their first employment. Offers entry level listings and locations to find these opportunities including Internships and part-time roles. Connects with four (4) vertical channels and eleven (11) partner sites.

Choice Career Fairs www.choicecareerfairs.com is a new web site offering job search assistance in a variety of areas as well as a list of cities where the organization is presenting careerfairs. The major cities are listed to the right on the main page and there is a cited link above to access all scheduled career fairs across the country.

Coast-to-Coast Career Fairs www.coasttocoastcareerfairs.com is a site to locate local career fairs across the US. The list is by region and covers the full calendar year. There are some 70+ cities listed and can be helpful to the individual who is looking outside the mid-Atlantic area. There does not appear to be a great deal of overlap between this site and www.ineedajob.com another job site where one can keyboard the city of interest or choice of any size.

Communications Initiative Network, The www.comminet.com is a website offering international and domestic job postings of communications (including writing and editing) and media that are central to social and economic development.

*LinkedIn.com www.linkedin.com Clearly one of the most helpful websites for the job seeker. Importantly for the veterans and transitioning military LinkedIn offers a free one year Premium membership. What LinkedIn offers the job seeker is something that no other website does. One can not just post their resume, but start their introduction with a clearly focused Profile. Then list experience in a somewhat different format from their posted resume, if so chosen. The ability to join special interest groups, focused by both geographic and career fields. The ability to pose questions, respond to others. Clearly an effective vehicle to initiate networking contacts as well as finding out about an organization's culture. For the job seeker this site is clearly important, as recruiters will often initiate their search, or look to see what an applicant has posted on the web besides their resume.

LinkUp www.Linkup.com The single job search engine that gathers its job listing from employer websites only, not third party sites (job boards). The window in the top of the first page asks for "job title," "key word" and "city" or "zip." Recommended by "Ask the Headhunter." See below.

Professional Diversity Network (PDN) www.prodivnet.com was PSI Job Fairs. Emphasis of this provider is diversity and handicapped professionals. See below.

PSI Job Fairs www.psijobfair.com – Now PDN, Professional Diversity Network, www.prodivnet.com.

Sales Job Network www.salesjobnetwork.com. Is part of the Sales Job Board Network, a company with over 200 industry specific sites and 20 sales-specific micro sites focused on attracting job seekers.

The Larger General Websites that are General Job Boards, unless otherwise noted, some are listed above:

It needs to be understood that the use of general job boards is recognized as the least productive source of securing a quality position, this follows: sources: 1. Networking to connect with employees of employers that are those you want to work for; 2. Employee Referrals; 3. Network Referrals, 4. Employer Job Boards; and 5. Niche Job Boards.

Indeed      www.indeed.com Indeed is the largest general purpose job board; and like the larger job boards aggregates its listings.

Idealist      www.idealists.org This site is recognized as the leading job board for nonprofit positions. It is important to understand the difference between the standard (for profit) versus the nonprofits and professional organizations do.

LinkedIn      www.linkedin.com is the primary job board now for professionals. It is also the first place recruiters go to check what you have on your Profile.

Maryland Workforce Exchange      <https://mwejobs.maryland.gov> Acts as a Virtual Career Center designed to ease access to information about jobs, training and workforce offices to support Maryland residents and those seeking employment in Maryland.

SimplyHired      A helpful job board for the less than highly experienced job seeker using job boards as their primary source for job search. It is an effective aggregator, perhaps a bit more selective than others, in what they take into their job board.

USA Jobs      The main site for federal government jobs across the United States. Still need a lot of help if the time between initial contact and eventual hiring is to be reduced to anything reasonable. Some Government agencies, such as the FBI, the Secret Service, NSA, and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve do have their own website. Most helpful for those job seekers living in Northern Virginia, the District of Columbia and Maryland is Maryland's POAC (Professional Outplacement Assistance Center) in Laurel, MD. It has a half day course on making application to the federal government that is most helpful. Its web address is: www.dllr.state.md.ud/poac.
